

Hello,

I'm Dana Larsen, and I've been a cannabis reform activist for all my adult life.

Now I need your help with the biggest political effort I have ever made.

Over the course of my career, I spent ten years as editor and journalist for Cannabis Culture Magazine, plus I served as leader of the BC Marijuana Party until 2003.

I co-founded the Vancouver Seed Bank, and I also founded the Vancouver Medicinal Cannabis Dispensary Society which now serves thousands of patients.

I have been an active member of the NDP for over seven years, working within the party to promote progressive marijuana and drug policies.

Now I am running for Leader of the BC New Democratic Party!

Throughout this leadership campaign I will be able to bring forward the many harms caused by marijuana prohibition and the drug war. I will explain how British Columbia can lead Canada in developing progressive, non-criminal marijuana and drug policies.

Anyone who joins the NDP before January 16 is allowed to vote for me as Leader.

I am calling on all members of the Cannabis Culture to support my campaign and join the BC NDP.

It only costs $10 to join the BC NDP for one year, and it's only $1 minimum if you are under 25 or "underemployed."

The donation to the BC NDP is tax-deductible, so you will be sent a tax receipt for your membership fee.

Just fill out the membership form, then leave it and your donation with the staff here.

The leadership vote will be on April 17, and you can vote online or by phone. It's very easy!

Thank you so very much for your support! Together we can change BC for the better.

Sincerely Yours,

Dana Larsen
